

THE DEMOCRAT.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY HARNEY & HUGHES. *

Office on Third street, East side, between Market and Jefferson, &c.

FOR SALE AT THE DESK.

Copies of the Daily Paper can be procured at the desk, with or without envelopes, at 5 cents per single copy or 35 cents per dozen.

Democratic Ticket, 1852.

FOR PRESIDENT,

STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS, of Illinois.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

R. M. T. HUNTER, of Virginia.

MONDAY, : : : JANUARY 12, 1852.

THE WHIG press goes off in advance about what the democratic convention at Frankfort did. We advise the editors to wait until they see and consider the proceedings of the convention as they are officially reported.

The convention did not nominate any one for the office of President. They did not declare the first choice of this Commonwealth, nor even the first choice of the members there assembled. The first choice of the State is not known—no means having been taken to ascertain it. They gave no instructions to the delegates to Baltimore. The convention, therefore, interferes with no man's preference. Read the resolutions and judge from them, not from telegraphic representations of them.

It will also be seen that the resolutions are more strongly State rights than any ever passed since '95, repudiating all imputations that the democracy of this State will have any association with free-soilers. General Butler is understood to endorse these resolutions to their fullest extent.

Our neighbor of the Journal may therefore hold on till he is informed. We have compromised no position of ours. If General Butler occupies ground covered by these resolutions, our objections are answered; and although he is not our choice for President, we have no quarrel with those who prefer him. They are as much entitled to their preference as we are to ours. The Baltimore convention will select the right man, we have no doubt, after a survey of the whole field.

We have our opinion as to who their choice will be, and our reasons for it are satisfactory to us. Time will show.

One end is accomplished, it will be seen by the resolutions. The change that the democracy of Kentucky will coalesce with the abolition faction of the North is pretty effectually rubbed out. If the free-soilers choose to vote for General Butler upon the platform laid down by our convention, it will not be his fault.

The Massacre in Paris.

A British military officer writes from Paris following the participants of the massacre which followed the insurrection in Paris:

A more cruel, barbarous, and inhuman-slaughter I suppose was never committed. I do not allude to the taking of the barricades, but to the massacre on the boulevards, of which there is no account in any newspaper. I have had a fortunate escape myself. At about 3 o'clock I was in the Boulevard des Italiens, and saw an immense force—I should think about 10,000 and 15,000 men passing up the boulevards. I was in the Rue Vivienne, and was advancing to attack a barricade at the Porte des Champs. Not being able to find my friend, I returned up the Rue Vivienne, intending to go again on the boulevards. When I got to the top of the street, I found a cordon of soldiers across it, who would not allow any one to come within fifty yards of them. Just about this time (half past 3 o'clock) the firing recommenced on the boulevards Montmatre and Poissonniere; and the sentinels at the top of the Rue Vivienne were tremendous. I got clear round a corner, and was about to start. Made the trumpet that called to battle Freddie's trumpet (quelling) ships. Long before more the rapture from the kiss of war or life.

Till the Nation then thundered down the wind of Freedom at us. The mass was tremendous. I got clear round a corner, and was about to start. Made the trumpet that called to battle Freddie's trumpet (quelling) ships. Long before more the rapture from the kiss of war or life.

CHARLES E. CASE.

Price, $1 per bottle—six bottles for 85.

Sold by J. D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, Northeast—corner of Fourth and Walnut st.—entrance to the Bank of the U. S. on the corner of Brown & Bond, Wilson, Smith & Smith, & McAllister, Robinson & Cary, J. B. Wilder & Co., Bell, Robinson & Co., Winfield & Newell, New Albany; Mortimer, Jefferson & Indianapolis.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with some more?—I am a great fan of your product.

John D. PARK—Dear Sirs: I am out of your Balsam of Wild Cherry. Will you supply me with

THE DEMOCRAT.

MONDAY, : : : JANUARY 12, 1852.

We are indebted to Mr. M. Berry for late St. Louis paper.

The swift and well known steamer John Simpson leaves for Tuscarawas and Florence this morning, at 4 o'clock. Shippers and persons going that way will consider their own interests by patronizing her.

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 9th says: "We are pleased to learn that, at the last meeting of the directors of the Louisville and Cincinnati mail line, there was a resolution passed, forbidding the officers in command of their boats from racing with other boats, under any circumstances whatever." This, we think, is a good move, and in keeping with the character of this old line, which has sustained a reputation for thirty years of running regularly, affording comfort, speed, and, above all, safety to those entrusting themselves to their care.

This is a character which we see the directors are maintaining for the time when others to gratify Jeopardy, are risking the lives of passengers to gain reputation for a boat, we think public opinion unanimously condemns. The officers of the line, with the exception of the extent of her power, let them noisy the public, so that they may avoid her as they would a powder magazine on fire. Let none but those who are willing, with their eyes open to the danger, run the risk.

There is no coal in Nashville, and it is probable that the Gas Company will have to suspend operations. Coal cannot be obtained at any price.

Quite a number of the members of the Legislature have been sojourning in our city for the past few days.

MEMORANDUM OF STEAMER LADY FRANKLIN.—Left St. Louis on the 6th, at 6 o'clock, P. M. Met steamer Hindoo at Vicksburg, Griffin, Yeaman at Widow Beard's, Daroo at Rattiespeak point, Editor of St. Genevieve, 7th—Met Hamper Commerce, Statesman at Cairo, Memphis at Paducah, Schuykill and Fanny Smith at Cincinnati, 8th—Met Empire at Evansville, 9th—Passed Marion at Cloverport, and Logan, Peckinpaw.

To Mr. B. R. Kirby, the gentlemanly clerk of the steamer Lady Franklin, we are indebted for the latest St. Louis papers and a memorandum of river news.

THE Wabash, Cumberland, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Ohio rivers are all in good boating order.

A HEAVY LOSS.—The Cincinnati Commercial says that the pork shipped for New Orleans on the barge in tow of the steamer Childe Harrold, which was sunk near Warsaw, was owned by Messrs. Hiatt & Gurrard, of that city, and valued at $60,000. Mr. John H. Gurrard came down on the Telegraph, a few days since, to the wreck, for the purpose of removing all the bulk meat and re-salting it, before shipping it on another barge or boat. There is no insurance on the stock, and it is feared that, together with the quantity thrown overboard and the amount damaged, the loss will be considerable. The safest and most profitable way of transporting freight is by steamers, and not barges.

MURDER.—Major Johnson, the mail agent on the big Ben Franklin, will accept our thanks for repeated favors. Our thanks are also due to Mr. Anderson, the active agent on the Telegraph No. 2, for the latest Cincinnati news.

THE much talked of James Robb will probably reach our landing to-morrow, on her first trip to New Orleans. She is said to be the most beautiful boat ever built on the Ohio, and will doubtless attract much attention among the steamboatmen of the Falls City.

THE Eclipse is rapidly approaching completion.—She is visited daily by large numbers of persons. We understand that she will be towed over the falls to the city wharf shortly.

PRESENT OF MIND IN BOYS.—The Syracuse Journal gives a notable instance. Several little lads were skating on Onondaga lake, when four broke in. One little fellow pulled the tippe from his neck and threw it and saved one of his comrades. Another off with his coat, tore it in two, tied it together, and saved two others. The fourth was drowned. Few men would have done as well as the noble boys.

THE Eastern mail failed beyond Cincinnati on Saturday.

THE thanks of the of the Springfield (Ky.) Mercury says that the name of Kosuth, has given him the right.

WE expected the official proceedings of the Democratic Convention yesterday, but no copy has yet come to hand.

THREE more of our exchanges declared for Douglass, the Boston Times, the Richmond (Va.) Enquirer, and the District Expositor, Springfield, Ohio.

MISCELLANEOUS.—At Shelbyville, Ia., last week, a son of Dr. Forbes, aged about 12 years, rode his father's horse to water on Thursday afternoon, just at night, and has not been found since. The horse returned without the rider, and the supposition is, that he was thrown into the river and drowned.

STEAMBOAT ROBBERTY.—On Thursday last, at Cincinnati, the steamer G. W. Sparhawk was boarded by several thieves, who, by means of "outsiders," entered several of the state rooms occupied by returned Californians, en route for their homes in Grundy county, Mo. They took from under the pillows of four of the men, women, children, and animals, carried them in the vortex to destruction. During this period the rain fell in torrents in Masai, and hail fell of enormous size. At Castellane (St. Louis, not near Naples) nearly half the town has been destroyed, and now about 200 persons are homeless. Dead bodies, terribly mutilated and swollen, were seen by my informant."

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—We learned just as we were going to press (4 P. M.) that a serious, and, in all probability, fatal affray, occurred between two persons at the railroad depot this afternoon. It seems that Mr. Morse, who has been employed for some time past as coachman for Mr. C. W. Markham, and Charles Capron, porter at the Hotel, had a dispute, and before they could be separated, Morse drew knife and stabbed Capron in three different places. It is supposed he cannot recover. The matter is undergoing investigation before Police Justice Bowstick. We shall publish the result of the investigation to-morrow.—Auburn Ad.

THE WHEEL OF FORTUNE.—Gen. Cavaignac was a prisoner in the fortresses of Ham, in the very apartment formerly occupied by Louis Napoleon. Louis Philippe, "the citizen King," who condemned Louis Napoleon to death, and afterwards was weak enough to spare him, died in exile, while Louis seized the reins of absolute power in France on the anniversary of the coronation of the Emperor and of the battle of Austerlitz.—Commonwealth

SAD ACCIDENT.—MAN SHOT.—Peter Lewis, S. V. Vassant, Philip Rush, and others, all residents of Covington, went out gunning a few miles back of that city day before yesterday. When near "Squire Buckner's," on the Lexington turnpike, seven miles from Covington, they separated; Rush and Lewis, who went to get, stopped to "start up" a rabbit. Rush held his gun on his arm, and was stamping a pile of brush to scare out the game, when his powder exploded, itself, and the bullet struck Lewis' breast, in the vicinity of the heart. Lewis died instantly. Mr. Rush, indeed, the whole party, were highly respectable citizens. Mr. Lewis was buried yesterday. He boarded at Widow Bradshaw's, in the lower part of Covington.—Cin. Commercial, 9th.

A YOUNG MEMBER OF CONGRESS.—Hon. Galusha A. Grow, member of the House of Representatives, from Pennsylvania, is the youngest member of Congress, being but twenty years of age. It is said he came to Washington College eleven years ago from the Western schools of Pennsylvania, to commence his education. Previous to which he had been engaged in rafting logs down the Susquehanna, and in deer hunting in the Alleghenies. He soon took a high rank in his class, became a good student, subsequently studied law, and last year was elected to Congress without serious opposition.—Baltimore Sun.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY.—On the last trip of the steamer Hibernia No. 2, from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, a gentleman named Dr. T. F. Robinson, of the former city, and a returned Californian was robbed of $2,300 in $20 gold pieces, newly coined in New Orleans, the effects of his labor in the gold country. The Porter of the boat has been arrested on the charge of being the robber.

THE Steamer Pittsburgh.

Yesterday morning an immense crowd gathered upon the levee to witness the departure of the steamer Pittsburgh, which it was understood, came to our wharf to run against the time the Telegraph made between Louisville and Cincinnati—11 hours and 23 minutes. In all probability the Pittsburgh will make the trip inside of 11 hours, for it is understood that she is prepared, with wood, coal, pitch, and oil, in abundance, specially to make the race, and had no way business. We shall hear to-day, while we are free to admit that the Pittsburgh gets along, we have yet to be convinced that she is faster than the Telegraph No. 2, if equally trimmed for the race.

There was nothing done at the Police Court on Saturday morning.

ONES, on the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, altered to fives, are in circulation.

Hog-slaughtering in Cincinnati will end this week.

Kosuth badges are advertised for sale in Cincinnati.

Over one million bushels of coal have been lost between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the past two months.

Dubufe's exquisite painting of Adam and Eve will be exhibited at the Odd Fellows' Hall for one week longer. We again urge those who have not seen it to visit it immediately.

There is no coal in Nashville, and it is probable that the Gas Company will have to suspend operations. Coal cannot be obtained at any price.

Quite a number of the members of the Legislature have been sojourning in our city for the past few days.

KENTUCKY RIVER.—A bill has passed both houses to incorporate a company for the improvement of the navigation of the Kentucky river. The act provides for the construction of additional locks and dams, extending to the three forks.

FROM MEXICO.—Accounts from the city of Mexico to the 11th ultimo, confirm the news of the second route of Carvajal and his followers on the Rio Grande. Gen. Jauregui, in his report to his government, states Carvajal's loss at a much higher figure than the accounts received by way of Brownsville.

It appears that an arrangement has been made with the English creditors of Mexico, by which for five years they are to receive three per cent annual interest and five of amortization, and afterward four per cent. interest and six amortization. The Spanish debt has been arranged at a much higher figure than the accounts received by way of Brownsville.

Resolved, That while public opinion in America, enlightened by Christian benevolence, and fostered by our glorious constitutions, declaring that no taxes or imposts may be imposed, nor criminal punishment inflicted, except to be used to the sword of justice in the speech of man.

We bring no charge against the government of England for the evil with which she carries on, between Cass and Buchanan is very severe, and carried on with such bitterness, that it is difficult to see how the friends of either can whip the friends of the other into the support of their friends.

Resolved, That while public opinion in America, enlightened by Christian benevolence, and fostered by our glorious constitutions, declaring that no taxes or imposts may be imposed, nor criminal punishment inflicted, except to be used to the sword of justice in the speech of man.

The sympathy is as between the mother and the child.—The paternity between Americans and Englishmen arises from a common parentage, and is cemented by the same language, laws, liberty, and religion, and by all the ties of a common origin, a common interest, and a common destiny are they united.

Resolved, That, owning a common brotherhood in every duty of humanity, we may, without the appearance of other interference or concurrence, complaints express sympathy with the unhappy sons of Ireland, who so often reflect their love to their country as to violate the laws of their government, and thereby brought on themselves exile from their native land— we mean Smith, O'Brien, Mitchell, and others engaged in the late rebellion in Ireland—and respectfully request the government of the United States, to ask of the Queen of England to extend to them her Royal pardon. We do this, because we believe that England is too powerful to be shaken or injured by her acts, and too strong to be overthrown, and too noble to be revengeful; and that, her sovereignty may now be perpetuated as certainly by grace, as by sufferings and punishments.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the newspapers of this city, and a copy thereof be transmitted by the Secretary to the President of the United States, with the request of this meeting, that he will take such action in the premises, as shall be consistent with the honor and dignity of the United States, and entirely respectful to the government of England, for the sake of the unhappy men we have mentioned, and their restoration to their homes and their country.

After reading the resolutions, Nathaniel Wolf, Esq., followed by Hamilton Pope, Esq., each addressed the meeting in spirited and eloquent speeches, receiving burs of applause.

General Pitcher being loudly called for, entered the hall, and, after a hearty ovation, was seated in the chair, and the meeting was adjourned.

JAMES SPEED, Secretary.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

CAPITAL.

495 MAIN street, 5 doors above Fourth.—I have a very handsome assortment of various kinds of Fancy Goods.

Plain and Embroidered Portfolios; Extra fine Silk Robes; Extra fine Velvet and Merino do; Extra fine Velvets, new style; Robes; Silk and Gauze Garters; Silk and Gauze Stockings; Corfoul Pictures; Fancy Prints, colored; Puttashions; Os Marrow; Soft Brushes; Star Brushes; Pen Knives; Cravats; Stock Ties; Pocket Books; Port Monies; Small Boxes; Tablets; Small Handkerchiefs; Small Mufflers; Scent Cases; Small Socks; Small Stockings; Stock Ties; Over Socks; Shoe Soles; Leggins; Clogs; Garter Bags; Trunks; Cases; Carpet Bags; Umbrellas; Robe de Chambre; Suspenders; Togethers with a great variety of articles too numerous to mention. I will sell on a la carte price to close out. Call at 495 Main street, for bargains.

A. D. MANSFIELD.

514 Main street, 5 doors above Fourth.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

K. D. MANSFIELD.

514 Main street, 5 doors above Fourth.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

K. D. MANSFIELD.

514 Main street, 5 doors above Fourth.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

K. D. MANSFIELD.

514 Main street, 5 doors above Fourth.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

K. D. MANSFIELD.

514 Main street, 5 doors above Fourth.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN SPAIN AND CUBA PARDONED.—The following are the terms in which the Gaceta de Madrid, of the 11th of December, announces the pardon of the citizens of the United States convicted of having taken part in the late expeditions against the Island of Cuba.

The act is creditable to the good sense of the Spanish government. It is probably owing to the representations of the Spanish Minister at Washington, who is a shrewd man, and understands our country and its people.

The report of the United States to the United States to her Majesty's government has arrived by extraordinary dispatch. The frank and honorable manner in which the federal government has conducted this transaction, in asking the Spanish government to pardon the rebels, is a credit to a righteous people by appreciating it in the same terms as the government of her Majesty, and by offering to let all reparations to the rebels be paid by the Spanish government.

It is to be hoped that the Spanish government will not yet be sent in. Perhaps Mr. Corwin is waiting for further developments in Pennsylvania, in favor of protection to iron. New-Yorkers.

K. D. MANSFIELD.

